Francesco Tristano – Piano

REUNION

Two musical worlds in harmony

When two completely different musical worlds collide, yet harmonise perfectly on both, a musical and human level, a new, shared soundscape emerges that must be heard.

Francesco Tristano, who is at home not only in classical but also in electronic music and Marialy Pacheco, who captivates the audience from the very first second with her rhythmical playing and Latin American flavours. Together they've created an incomparable combination: A sound that lays deeply rooted in their mutual love for Johann Sebastian Bach effortlessly aligned with original compositions and improvisation.
