

Marialy Pacheco Trio & Orchestra

Joo Kraus - Trumpet, Effects

Danzón Cubano: Symphonic Latin Jazz.

A blend of Marialy Pacheco's Trio, trumpet player Joo Kraus and a symphony orchestra. With this combination, Marialy Pacheco playfully and expertly climbs new musical heights; reaches a new world; a new mix; a dance of sound between Cuban and classical music. Melodies glisten, waves of harmonies explode; and suddenly all of our senses are awoken. For this project she brings music from her Cuban roots, from Central America and her own compositions, arranged for the orchestra by herself together with composer and conductor Gordon Hamilton. Danzón Cubano is a project to be experienced. Music with mainstream potential but without the risk of ever becoming a bore. Magnificent artistry, full of energy which you can easily keep up with and in which brilliance is maintained in every single beat.

Links:

„Sale el Sol - Live at Jazzfestival Viersen“

<https://vimeo.com/245054373>

„El Manisero – Live at Jazzfestival Viersen“

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OtI3L8W-RR0>

„Tres Lindas Cubanitas – Live at Jazzfestival Viersen“

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xJfRQxdI_Tc